WYCOMBE Wanderers stage the second of three successive friendlies before their vital league match at Enfield on January 17 when they take on Brighton Reserves at Loakes Park tomorrow (Saturday).

This match was arranged as a substitute for Wycombe's scheduled league match against Dagenham, which was postponed due to Dagenham's game in the F.A. Trophy.

As Brighton's first team have a vital Third Division game at Cardiff, conquerors of Wanderers in the F.A. Cup last month, the side at Wycombe will consist of purely reserves, although they should prove strong opposition to the Blues judging by their recent results.

Brighton Reserves play in the Mid-Week League along with many of the Division Two and Three reserve teams. After drawing four and losing four of their first eight matches, Brighton have won their last eight games. Latest result was a resounding 8-1 home triumph over Northampton Reserves.

Wanderers are likely to field a strong side tomorrow, for they need to give their regular players match practice before the Enfield game.
